#14 Servicing Solenoids With Die Electric Grease

This bulletin is to help with the servicing of our control valve solenoids. When conducting a servicing of the filters, these should be serviced also. In this picture you can see surface rust; the rust will need to be removed with emery cloth or abrasive pad.

Here is a picture after being cleaned, and die electric grease added ready for install. The electrical DIN connector should be on the side, not the top; this will assist with water to drain from the connectors.
